QUESTION OF FORMOSA TO GO BEFORE UN

Lake Success, Nov. 15—(AP)—The United States plans to bring the question of Formosa's future before the United Nations today but none of America's potential allies appear willing to pick up this political dynamite.

A spokesman said the U. S. wants to get the opinion of other nations on what to do with the big island—last ditch headquarters of Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist regime and focus point of a furious political battle in the United States.

Chiang's government and the Russians already are on record contending that Formosa is Chinese territory and not a subject for U. N. discussion. Russia's Jacob A. Malik said that although the Soviet Union considers discussion of the question illegal, his delegation would have something to say on the subject.

But spokesmen for several other nations made it clear that they have no intention of expressing any opinion at all until after the U. S. explains its policy in regard to Formosa.

The question as scheduled for debate in the 60-nation political committee today as soon as a vote is taken on a resolution calling for the return of Greek children, kidnapped during the civil war, to their homes.

American sources said the state department still was working on 11th hour policy revisions and even after the question comes up formally today, it would keep an open mind.

Republican State Department Adviser John Foster Dulles will handle the debate. This was seen as an effort to lend the most bipartisan character possible to the question.

Russian remarks on Formosa are expected to start with a reiterated demand that the Communist Peiping government be invited to participate in any discussion on Formosa.

A nine-man Red delegation left Peiping yesterday to argue the question of U. S. action in Formosa before the Security Council.

Excess Profits Tax of 75 Per Cent on Corporations Urged By Secretary of the Treasury

Washington, Nov. 15—(AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder today proposed a 75 per cent excess profits tax on corporations to raise the extra $4,000,000,000 that President Truman wants to help pay for the expanding defense effort.

Snyder said he is "confident" the proposal—a modified and softer version of the 85.5 per cent excess profits tax of World War II—can be passed at the short-session of congress opening Nov. 27.

The treasury chief appeared before the tax-writing house ways and means committee to back up Mr. Truman's plea yesterday for a $4,000,000,000-a-year profits levy, retroactive to July 1, as "part of a sound program of defense taxation." The president said profits are soaring under the rearmament program.

The committee called in Snyder to give details on Mr. Truman's request as it began hearings under a mandate for congress to try to produce an excess levy bill as quickly as possible.

Snyder proposed that corporations, as in World War II, be given the alternative of figuring their taxes through a "base period earnings credit" or an "invested capital credit."

Either system would set a level of earnings on which the regular corporate income tax, which ranges up to 45 per cent, would apply and leave all profits in excess of that sum subject to the 75 per cent "excess" profits rate.

In a letter to Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) of the house tax-writing committee yesterday, the president urged that congress pass the excess profits tax, retroactive to last July 1, at the short session slated to start Nov. 27.

He hinted, too, that further tax cuts would be considered.

SIXTH DEATH RESULTS FROM ALTOONA FIRE

Altoona, Nov. 15—(AP)—The death toll in an explosion and fire which destroyed a crowded one-room house near here stands at six today.

Mrs. Florence Ebbert, 60, died of injuries suffered in the Monday night blast. Her daughter-in-law and four grandchildren also were killed.

Mrs. Ebbert's son, William, 40, and another grandchild, Tommy, 11, are hospitalized with serious burns.

Precautions For President's Safety Are Now Tighter Than Any Time in the Past

Washington, Nov. 15—(AP)—The attempt of two fanatics to shoot down President Truman two weeks ago has led to precautions for his safety that never have been tighter, even in wartime.

These constant grim reminders of the dangers that go with the nation's highest office have done nothing to heighten cheeriness of the atmosphere about the White House, but associates say the president has been cooperative.

In the 14 days since two Puerto Rican revolutionaries tried to shoot their way into Blair House and kill Mr. Truman, these and other steps have been taken to insure no plot upon his life could succeed.

A block-long street closest to the White House executive offices—west Executive avenue—has been blocked to all traffic. Exits from the old state department building leading into that street have been sealed.

Blair House has been roped off, and only those with special passes may approach nearer than the broad width of Pennsylvania avenue, on which it fronts. The government has purchased the two adjacent buildings whose windows look down upon the president's temporary living quarters. The residential portion of the White House is under repair.

Swarms of uniformed and plain-clothes police and secret service men have been added to the White House guard. Strangers who approach get coldly appraising stares.

Tension Mounting In Coast-to-Coast Telephone Dispute

New York, Nov. 15—(AP)—Massed pickets struggled again with Philadelphia police today as they tried to block non-striking telephone operators from reaching their jobs in a Bell Telephone Company exchange.

After five minutes of pushing and shoving, police drove a wedge in the picket line and about 15 workers slipped into the building. Police sent for reinforcements after the line re-formed and blocked other non-striking workers outside the building.

The new flareup came as the partial coast-to-coast telephone strike neared the end of its first week with tension mounting on picket lines.

The tension reflected the strike's inconclusive effect on national phone service, the unbroken deadlock at the bargaining table, and the huge Bell system's growing counter-measures against the walk-out.

Soldier Repudiates Story of Murder

Norristown, Nov. 15—(AP)—District Attorney J. Stroud Weber said today that Clarence A. Woodley, Jr., 25-year-old soldier, now insists he was out of his mind when he "confessed" killing a Pottstown divorcee. Another man has served four years in prison following his conviction of the killing.

Weber said that Woodley admitted during an interview yesterday at Levensburg Federal Penitentiary that he had made the statement to army authorities in Germany, admitted the slaying of Miriam Green, 28, but, Weber added, Woodley claimed:

"I don't know what I was doing."

The district attorney declined any further comment at this time on his interview with Woodley, who is serving a prison term for armed robbery while on duty in Germany.

Weber said the investigation of the statement will continue.

WAYNESBURG FIRE

Waynesburg, Nov. 15—(AP)—A family of 10 escaped death when gasoline ignited and destroyed their eight-room house near here yesterday. Garland Lemley, a lumber mill worker, suffered severe burns on his hands when a lantern flame ignited gasoline he was pouring in his cellar. He and his wife and eight children fled the burning house.

Acts Are Lined Up For Vaudeville Show To Be Given As Benefit For Canteen

Six of the ten acts which will be featured in the "Vaudeville Show" Saturday evening, November 25th at the Woman's Club, were announced this morning by the joint Jaycee—Youth Canteen Committee. The show is a benefit for the community youth canteen being established in the Y annex.

Among the headliners will be the "Millstone Sisters, Joan and Shirley, a vocal team, which was among the finalists on a recent Horace Heidt talent show. Another out of town performer scheduled for the event is Poppleton, Clown Prince of Magic, who has one of the funniest acts in this area.

Janet Gully, student at Ohio Wesleyan University, will be in Tidewater for the Thanksgiving Vacation and will therefore be able to take part in the benefit. Janet is an expert impersonator and was seen by many during the Fourth of July variety show. Dick Rapp and Nancy King, local dance team are rehearsing a new act which will be seen for the first time at the Vaudeville show. The Kordian Kids, all twenty of them, have also been engaged and will be making their first appearance on the Woman's Club stage.

One of the highlights of the program will be the famous satire by George F. Kaufman, "If Men Played Cards Like Women Do." The all male cast for this one act comedy will be announced later this week.

Negotiations for four more acts are still going on and should be completed within a few days. In the meantime tickets for the benefit will be on sale tomorrow from members of the canteen committee, the adult steering committee, the Jaycees, and the YMCA.

Threat of a Strike Hangs Over Radio and Video Systems

New York, Nov. 15—(AP)—Strike threats, mostly over pay issues, hung over the country's radio, and television networks today. The executive board of the television authority, which represents all AFL unions in the industry, authorized a strike early this morning.

George Heller, the executive secretary, said it probably would take place "within a day or two" unless peace is reached on contract demands.

The American Federation of Radio Artists, an AFL union which also is a member of the Television Authority, voted Nov. 1 to strike in the main radio net work centers of New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The federation's national board met last night to decide whether to strike. But the meeting broke up without any announcement.

The television dispute involves all four networks—Columbia, National, American and Dumont—and one New York City station, WOR-TV.

The radio dispute affects Columbia, National, American and Mutual networks.

The Television Authority is made up of the radio artists, the Associated Actors and Artists (CQ) of America, the American Guild of Variety Artists, Actors Equity, the American Guild of Musical Artists, and the Chorus Equity Association.

Officials in all the unions have declined to make public their pay demands, saying that the types of work and the wide variety of skills involved make the situation complex.

CONFESSED SPY IS ON TRIAL IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 15—(AP)—Harry Gold, confessed atomic spy, told a federal court jury today that while acting as a Soviet espionage agent he met Abraham Brothman in 1941.

Gold, Philadelphia bio-chemist, is awaiting sentence in federal court, Philadelphia, on his plea of guilty to a charge of giving atomic secrets to Russia.

He was called today as a government witness in the trial of Brothman and Miss Miriam Maslowitz on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice during a 1947 federal grand jury investigation of subversive activities. In his testimony before the grand jury Brothman said he was not a Communist.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Franklin, Nov. 15—(AP)—Charles E. Wyant, Jr., 22, of nearby Cooperstown, died last night in a Franklin hospital of injuries suffered Saturday when he was crushed against a garage work bench by a school bus. Wyant was working in the Cooperstown garage when the bus pinned him against the bench. He suffered fractures of both thighs and shock.

Largest Black Bear of Season Bagged By Indianola Nimrod

An Indianola hunter is credited with bagging the biggest bear killed in this area in many years. The bear was so large it had to be dragged from the woods with a horse.

The successful nimrod was Walter Watychowicz, who was hunting with John Scott, also of Indianola. Those two, along with Chuck and Bob Myers, also of Indianola, were staying at the Richard Bloss home in Sheffield.

Yesterday morning about 9:30 o'clock, Watychowicz and Scott went into the woods near the Duck Eddy basin, between Sheffield and Barnes, and in five minutes, Walter had killed the bear with two well-placed shots.

Reports filed with Game Protector Dave Titus list the bear's weight at 340 pounds. The usual run for bears shot in this area is around 200 pounds.

After felling the huge brown, Watychowicz went to Sheffield for help and obtained the aid of Leno Corte. A trail was cut through the woods with an axe, and a horse owned by Corte was used to drag the animal out of the heavily-wooded area.

The bear was one of 12 killed in the first two days of the season in Warren county, according to reports filed with the game protector.

Among the other successful hunters was a 13-year-old boy, Ronald Strong, of Apollo R. D. 1, who shot a small bear in Warren county while hunting with his father on the opening day, Monday. It was the youth's second hunting trip. He bagged a doe when he visited this section last year.

Village Is Almost Razed By Explosion Of Dynamite Load

Greensboro, Nov. 15—(AP)—An explosives truck blew up in a nearby mining village yesterday, wrecking almost every house in the community of 150 residents. The blast came about 15 minutes after the truck collided with auto and burst into flames.

The interval gave rescuers time to warn residents to flee from nearby homes.

State police believe the truck driver, James W. Smiley, 28, of Wheeler, Pa., perished in the explosion. No trace of his body was found. Five other persons were hospitalized and a score suffered minor hurts.

The explosion blasted a hole 20 feet deep and 50 feet long. About 100 feet of Monongahela Railroad track, along route 88, was ripped up. Half of the 18-foot concrete highway for a distance of 30 feet was blown to bits.

The Metro White grocery store and seven homes were flattened in the nameless little mining hamlet on the outskirts of Poland Mines, four miles southwest of here. The blast tore roofs, walls and porches from a dozen houses and knocked others off their foundations.

The truck, owned by William Baughman, Connellsville, Pa., was carrying dynamite and possibly other explosives from the Liberty Powder Co., Mt. Braddock, Pa., to the Jimmy Mine of Jimmy's Coal foundation. (Turn to Page Ten)

Newspaper Strike Ends But Presses Still Remain Idle

Pittsburgh, Nov. 15—(AP)—A six-week strike of mailing room workers against Pittsburgh's three daily newspapers has ended but newshoys won't be hawking papers for at least several days.

The mailers and delivery truck drivers, whose contract expired after the strike began last October 1, will get a 10-cent hourly increase when they return to work and 3½ cents nine months later.

The mailers' rejection of a flat 10-cent offer precipitated the strike.

The contracts run to April 1, 1952, an 18-month period.

There are stumbling blocks to be set aside before the presses roll again at the Post-Gazette, Sun-Telegraph and Press.

The publishers are talking with representatives of the 10 unions representing about 2,500 newspaper workers. The non-striking unions told publishers when employees were furloughed that they would expect pay for their members during the walkout.

No decision was reached on a back to work date in a meeting last night. Another meeting will be held tomorrow.

The mailers, formerly affiliated with the International Typographical Union, had their charter lifted by the ITU shortly after the strike started.

The drivers, who brought on the shutdown of the newspapers two (Turn to Page Ten)

Daytime Blackout Spectacular Outcome Of Most Serious Canadian Fire Season

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The great Canadian smoke screen was one of the most interesting Pennsylvania stories of the year; what caused it, and what's happened since, is detailed in the following story.)

Ottawa, Nov. 15—(AP)—Canadians looking back on a season of heavy forest fire losses in the east and the west—but of light damage in the central provinces—found the most spectacular development in a smoke pall that brought a daytime blackout to part of eastern North American cities one week-end in late September.

The ove all fire loss in Canada is believed heavier this year than in 1948. Just how much heavier has yet to be calculated by provincial forestry department officials, still busy tabulating rangers' reports.

Estimates of the value of timber destroyed are available from only one of the 10 provinces—Alberta—which lost $1,000,000 worth. In all Canada last year, the value of timber burned and the cost of firefighting totalled $8,017,706.

The smoke that drifted eastward from bushfires in northwestern Canada the weekend of Sept. 24 blotted out the sun over a score of cities including Toronto, Chicago, New York, Washington, Philadelphia and Buffalo, N. Y. It made it necessary to turn on the lights for an afternoon baseball game in Cleveland. Some people, gazing fearfully at the greyish-yellow haze, thought the end of the world was at hand.

ROK DIVISION IS REPULSED AT TOKCHON

By The Associated Press
Seoul, Nov. 15—(AP)—Red battalions smashed back South Korean troops at two widely separated points on the United Nations line last night and today.

Attacking Communists drove the republic of Korea (ROK) Eighth Division back four miles near Tokchon on the western front.

The attack, in battalion strength began Tuesday night and continued Wednesday morning. By noon the ROK Eighth Division had withdrawn to the south bank of the Taedong river, four miles east of Tokchon. This is on the right flank of the U. N. western front.

On the extreme northeastern front six tanked North Korean assault battalions tore five holes through the ROK Capital Division line late Tuesday. The South Koreans counterattacked, closing the gaps, the U. S. 10th Corps said.

Violent Red assaults were continuing in the area, 90 miles southeast of the Soviet border. But, a spokesman said, "no ground was lost."

These Communist attacks were in sharp contrast to lack of opposition encountered by other U. N. troops advancing carefully in North Korea's bitter cold.

American troops reached the shores of North Korea's two large

THEATER IN CENTRAL CITY IS DESTROYED

Central City, Nov. 15—(AP)—The little Somerset county mining town was without a theater today after a $60,000 fire and explosion destroyed the two-story brick building.

Fifteen minutes after the fire was discovered a blast ripped out one wall, pelting an adjoining Five and Ten cent store with debris.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

G. O. P. Women Stand Behind Atlantic Pact and International Aid Programs

Harrisburg, Nov. 15—(AP)—Pittsburgh's Republican women today stood behind the Atlantic Pact and other international aid programs but emphasized that such plans should go to congress before funds are put up.

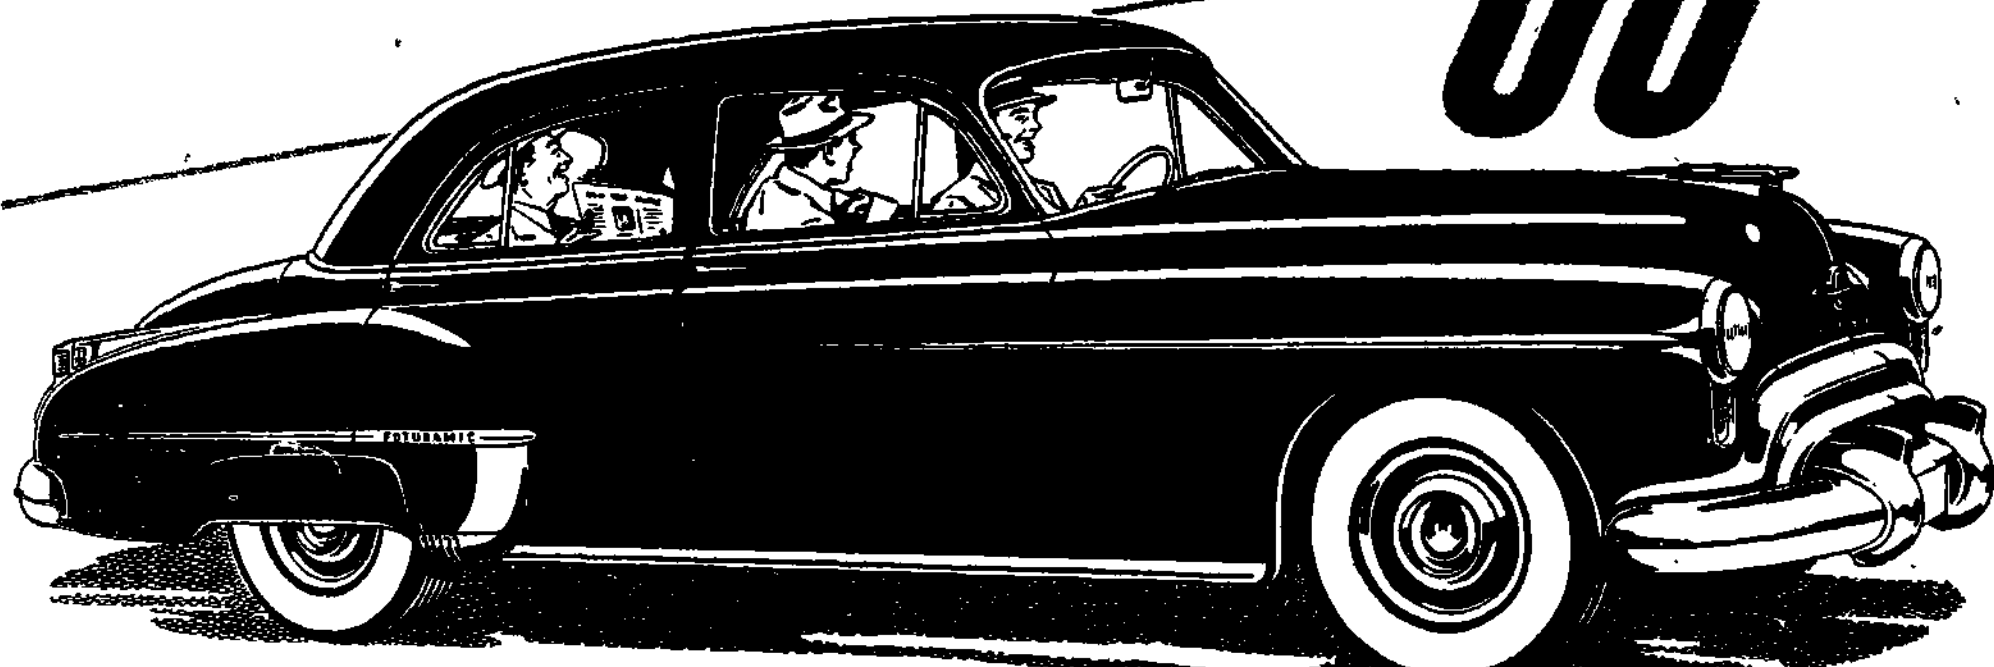

In a resolution passed at yesterday's session of its annual convention, the Pennsylvania council of Republican women declared firm support for such measures.

The resolution warned, however, that "America should be made more fully aware of our own economy."

"It cannot be jeopardized to the breaking point," the resolution added, "it is the crippling of our national resources that is the definite aim of the forces of Democracy." (Turn to Page Ten)

For Power with Economy...it's High Compression!
FOR HIGH COMPRESSION...
IT'S THE "ROCKET"!

Ever since Oldsmobile introduced the "Rocket" Engine two years ago, seems like everybody claims "high-compression"—but nobody explains it. The phrase simply means squeezing the gasoline into a smaller space before exploding it. This gets more power out of the same amount of fuel. But the engine must be designed for high-compression all the way through to assure smooth, quiet, gas-saving performance. The "Rocket" is 100% high-compression—from the crankshaft out. And the lowest-priced "Rocket" Engine car is Oldsmobile's "88." Makes good sense to try it soon—doesn't it?

Plans For '51 Camping Season of Boy Scout Council Is Discussed at Meeting

At the regular monthly meeting of the Warren County Council, Boy Scouts of America, Cal Barwis, chairman of the camping committee presented the following report as an outline of the camping plans for 1951. The season will open on Saturday, July 14, and will operate for seven days per week, closing Saturday August 11. There will be four plans at which a Troop or Scout can attend Camp Olmsted next summer. Plan 1 includes a Troop taking all its own equipment, under its own leadership and cooking all its own meals, the cost will be $10.00 per Troop for site and facilities. Each Scout would be expected to pay an additional $50 for medical and insurance fees. Under Plan 2 the Troop will go with its own equipment and leadership but eat all three meals in the dining room. The cost to be $10.00 per Scout per week.

Plan 3 the Troop with its own leadership but the camp would supply the necessary equipment such as tents, cots, etc. The Troop will eat all three meals in the dining hall and the cost to be $12.00 per Scout per week. Under plan 4, the provisional plan, the Scout will attend by himself when he cares to or stay over after the Troop goes home. The Council furnishes everything including leadership, equipment, etc., three meals in the dining hall had the cost to be $14.00 per week per Scout.

Mr. Barwis in his report indicated also the Camping Committee has set an objective of 400 Scouts to participate in Camp Olmsted program during 1951. The board approved this action unanimously and in turn commended Mr. Barwis and his committee for presenting such a fine report for this early in the 1951 camp season.

It is hoped that all Scout Troops and Explorer Posts in the Council will cooperate in making 1951 the biggest camp season ever.

Other matters of interest presented for consideration of the executive board was the separation of the camping and activities committee into two separate committees.

This was made on recommendation of Mr. Barwis, chairman of the camping committee. Mr. Barwis will remain as chairman of the camping committee, and W. L. Wehner has been appointed by Dr. Carl E. Whipple, president, as chairman of the activities committee.

An employment gain of 115 was reported by the manufacturing group (26 industries) while retail and wholesale business reported an employment gain of 22. These gains, however, were partially offset by a drop of 95 in employment rosters for construction work.

Results of Experiments on Petroleum Recovery Methods Discussed at Meet

State College—Oil producers and engineers from many of the nation's oil fields, here for a technical meeting, heard a report that experiments with long samples of oil-bearing formations indicate that petroleum recovery may be increased up to 54 per cent by injecting gas ahead of the water used in some fields to drive crude oil to producing wells.

The disclosure, resulting from investigations in the laboratory of the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association at Bradford, Pa., was made in a paper by Dr. J. N. Breston, laboratory chief, and his associates, Joseph Saxon, Jr., and R. M. Macfarlane. The paper was given at the 14th annual technical conference sponsored by the Pennsylvania State College school of mineral industries for all operators engaged in producing a second "crop" of oil from achieve the additional oil recovery.

The gas drive, it was reported, caused a thorough oil removal throughout the core but also left it in condition for further oil recovery by water flooding. It was concluded from these experiments, performed on both Bradford type sands and Venango sands, that if such methods of oil recovery could be made applicable to the field it would mean greater oil recovery per acre and a reduction of the oil left in the sand of a new low point.

Another paper, by P. W. Sturm and W. E. Johnson of the Association's Bradford laboratory, reported that fluorescein, a yellow chemical dye, had been found advantageous, when mixed with water injected into oil formations, as a tracer in detecting such conditions as crevices, fissures, or very loose sand that are adverse to oil producing efficiency. The investigators found salt, other fluorescent dyes, and wetting agents useful also. The dye and other chemical tracers were introduced into injection water and then detected in the water produced with the oil.

A resin emulsion injected experimentally into six air injection wells in the Goodwill Hill-Grand Valley field, Warren County, failed to plug certain "thief" formations which were the target, according to a paper by Paul T. Ball and Charles E. Wheldon, Jr., of the U. S. Bureau of Mines station, Franklin. Experience gained will be helpful, however, in improving the technique of placing the plugging agent in an injection well in a manner that will reduce by-passing of the injected gas and increase the recovery of oil, it was felt.

H. H. Danielson of South Penn Oil Company, Bradford, and Don Martin of Hercules Powder Company, Wilmington, Del., explained an improved method of applying an agent to plug certain "thief" formations in water input wells in the Bradford field resulting, they said, in savings on cost of injected water, savings on lifting

In Navy Hall of Fame

Gerald Landers, recently assigned to the destroyer USS Haynsworth and stationed at Norfolk, Va., where he has been attending gunnery school, writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Landers, 9 Carpenter street, that he is awaiting orders to sail November 27 for Cuba and will return December 18 unless orders are delayed. Jerry, as he is better known to his many friends, completed his boot training at Great Lakes, Ill., training station September 16.

He was a member of Company 191, 103rd Battalion, which took top honors and was entered into the Navy Hall of Fame. At that time Company 191 held an unbroken record of 33 flags, possessing the required five roosters, an honor gained only through hard work and cooperation of every man in the company.

Mr. and Mrs. Landers visited Jerry at Great Lakes and attended the graduation exercises at Ross Field. Each man in his company was presented a silver-plated identification bracelet on which was engraved the date, his name and company, and "Navy Hall of Fame."

BACK AT BASE—Aldon Eugene Skinner, EM 3/c, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Edson Skinner, Lander, has notified his family that he is back at his Norfolk, Va., base after having been in the Mediterranean area since July. Young Skinner attended Lander High School before enlisting in the Navy January 5, 1948. He was assigned to the USS Midway in August, 1948, and had his last leave at home in December, 1948.

INDO-CHINA A HOT SPOT

The Chinese Communists have turned down a United Nations invitation to discuss before the Security Council their intervention in the Korean war.

There can't be any great surprise in this. They could not have denied the presence of their troops in Korea, since they have broadcast appeals for "volunteers" for all the world to hear. They could only have tried to offer some excuse for their action.

But all but one of their possible excuses would not have carried much weight in the UN. There is evidence that a good many nations, including the United States, would have given consideration to the Reds' obvious interest in the power dams on the Korean side of the Manchurian border.

Yet the chances are Mao Tse-tung has other aims as well, which would not stand UN scrutiny. As many observers have suggested, he may want to prolong the war through the bitter winter, to help Reds generally to regain some of their lost prestige in the Far East.

He couldn't easily talk of such things to the Security Council. If he chose to speak only of China's worries over power dams, he might find himself embarrassed by a UN promise to safeguard his interests there. Then he'd have no course but to get out of Korea.

That the Reds have decided not to come indicates pretty strongly that the dams are only part of the story. And they much prefer to keep the rest of the world guessing as to what the other parts are.

As Communist forces continue to advance in Indo-China to the south, a new theory is emerging that the whole Korean operation may, in the Reds' view, be merely a diversion. The real show is Indo-China, some experts are saying.

According to this version, everything the Communists are doing outside that French-defended land is aimed at distracting the United States, Britain and other potential allies of France.

It's argued that for the future of all Southeast Asia Indo-China is vastly more important than Korea or Tibet or Formosa. Indo-China in Red hands might open up India, Burma, Malaya and Indonesia to relatively easy Communist conquest.

Since no western nation has any wish to invade Red China and get involved in a war with her hordes of soldiers, Mao is definitely in a position to thumb his nose at the West. We have no choice but to go on guessing his motives.

But on the chance that he is trying to distract us and scatter our strength, we can at least deny him the opportunity of making Formosa an effective part of his smoke screen.

THE BLANKET
(New York Times)

November's lashing rain and gusty wind bring down the color from the treetops. The wooded hills overnight lose their banners, and the maples, the buttonwoods and all the birches stand leafless against the sky, as though never again would such a spectacle occur. Walk through the woods and you scuffle through the color that was and is no more.

The remnants are there underfoot, a rustling blanket that is almost as wintry as the barren hills. Yet it is more than a blanket. So well ordered are the seasons that this blanket not only protects the roots and bulbs there in the woodlands but at a proper time it will feed their reaching shoots. Rain will leach away the crispness, and snow will press it close to the self-renewing earth. Thus are the woodlands renewed and enriched; thus are the lesser acids of decay provided to hasten and continue the life processes of tree and vine and bush and shrub.

The leaves are not discarded any more than the crisp grass stems in the meadow. Their primary function was to trap sunlight and manufacture food for the parent plant. That function completed, at a proper time they underwent physical change which gave them vivid color. And after that they returned to the earth itself this winter blanket of protection and nourishment for another spring.

There they lie, brought down by wind and rain, and there they will be absorbed by the soil. And from them, when the time comes, will spring color again, the color of violets and cranesbill and anemone, and the stately green of new-leaved trees, the green that will turn gold and crimson in another October and will come showering down in another November rain. For the cycle has no ending.

Here And There

In connection with the opening of the remodelled Printz store today it is interesting to review briefly some early history concerning the opening of the store by the company in this city. From issues of the Evening Mirror printed in December, 1895, and early in January, of 1896, we are able to assemble a few facts about what was happening in the clothing business here at this time. An article on the first page of the December 12, 1895, issue of the Mirror announced that "James D. Woodard, one of the town's youngest and most successful business men, will close out his large clothing store, and temporarily, at least, will retire from business. He will sell his stock piece-meal, or, if a purchaser should happen along, he could have the whole business intact." Then on Tuesday, December 17, we find the following paragraph in the "Daily Reflections" column: "Printz Bros., who own a large clothing and merchant tailoring establishment in both Sharon and Franklin, are in town negotiating with James D. Woodard for the purchase of his clothing store. The gentlemen are taking an invoice of the stock today, but as yet no deal has been consummated." On December 21, of that year, a first page article announced: "It is definitely settled that J. D. Woodard, who has been so prominently and successfully identified with the clothing business in this city, will retire within a few days. The business has been practically purchased by Printz Bros. of Franklin and Sharon and as a guarantee of good faith a bonus of $10,000 has been deposited in a local bank. The store will be closed for an inventory of the stock, not later than the 27th instant, after which Printz Bros. will pay over to Mr. Woodard the purchase price in clean, cold cash. It is not a deal on paper."

The next mention in connection with the opening of the Printz store in Warren is found on Saturday, December 28th. It says: "Printz Bros., who recently purchased the Jas. D. Woodard store, are working hard getting things in shape for the opening under the new management. They expect to throw the doors open to the public next Friday or Saturday. A. A. Printz, of Franklin, will have personal charge of the business here. The new firm are ardent believers in the use of printer's ink, and their broad gauge advertising will appear shortly." An advertisement appeared in the December 30th issue, announcing the formal retirement of Woodard, with the Printz Brothers taking over the stock valued at $50,000. Finally, Saturday, January 4, 1896, there is this item: "Printz Bros. opened their clothing store to the public this morning and all day business has been booming. These gentlemen are extensive advertisers, and in addition to carrying large advertisements in all the local papers, they distributed 10,000 posters about Warren and vicinity." (And the next item says "The thermometer registered below zero this morning.")

Russia, Not U. S., Should Pay For Reconstruction in Korea

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Korean reconstruction aid is running into a nice foul-up in the United Nations. It is being discovered—apparently for the first time—that this job is going to cost a little money. And the glorious allies are shunning the bill like the plague. What should happen here, is that the bill for all Korean relief and rehabilitation should be handed to Soviet Russia. They started this thing. Let them foot the bill, and let the United Nations assess the damages. They could never collect. But it would be a good counter-propaganda trick to have Ambassador Warren Austin get up someday at a UN meeting and present a detailed statement to Vishinsky & Malik. Since diplomats are diplomats, however, this will never be done. Instead, the world now has the spectacle of the Russian representatives sitting in on committee and Economic and Social Council meetings where Korean recovery is being discussed, dotting 'i's, crossing 't's and shifting commas about in such manner that they will later be able to get out of paying one ragged ruble.

OFFICIAL chatter around Washington is that the United States will be asked—or will volunteer—to pick up the check for about 70 per cent of whatever it will cost to put Korea back on its feet. It is the job of collecting the other 30 per cent that will cause the headaches. First estimates on what Korean reconstruction would cost were put together by the Army general staff and the Marshall Plan organization in Korea. These figures were taken to Wake Island and given to President Truman by General MacArthur.

Estimates were made for something like a five-year plan. But the cost was found to be so high that the total has never been released. South Korean government estimates have put the total need at $2 billion. Whatever the figure, constant effort has been made to get it down to manageable proportions.

South Korean requirements are fairly well known in some categories. The number of destroyed railway and highway bridges, for instance, and the cost of replacing some bombed-out factories. Nearly 149,000 out of 150,000 looms were destroyed, and 3,200 out of 4,500 spindles. Destruction of farm livestock can only be guessed at, says Dr. Edgar A. J. Johnson, Acting Chief of the Marshall Plan mission to Korea, who recently returned to Washington from Seoul. Another major uncertainty is the amount of loot taken from warehouses by the Communists. And requirements for North Korea still have to be surveyed. At Lake Success, in order to make the figures look smaller, an effort was made to set up a budget for a shorter period of time. For the first 18 months, it has been thought that $350 million might get the job started.

Since the U. S. Army and the Marshall Plan will spend at least $100 million on Korean rehabilitation in the next few months, this sum was subtracted from the 18-month estimate to give a balance of $250 million that the United Nations might be asked to contribute for the calendar year 1951 or slightly beyond.

OPPOSITION to approving even this sum has come from two sources. First from the smaller countries who fear that Korea would be given too big an advantage over them by such modernization. Second from the bigger countries who don't want to spend anything at all. But within a few days or weeks, the UN Economic and Social Council resolution on Korean relief will make its way through the various political committees and finally come up for a vote before the full General Assembly. How much the resolution will be amended is anybody's guess.

Then will come the longer, slower process of trying to collect the money to pay for whatever aid is voted, after making long and detailed surveys of what's needed and reporting back to UN. It will be another UNRRA type operation.

BIRTHDAY PARTY GUEST—Miss Francis M. Maher, Kane, elected at Asheville, N. C., in July as supreme regent of the Catholic Daughters of America, will be the special guest of Warren Court for its 27th birthday anniversary party at 6:15 this evening at the YWCA activities building.

Miss Maher, familiar figure at many previous court affairs, now heads a national organization numbering more than 200,000 in 45 of the United States, Panama, Puerto Rico, Havana, and Alaska, with a Junior membership of 35,000 girls between the ages of 12-18 years. Organized in June, 1903, Meadville is the oldest court in this section.

The great work of the order is charity and benevolence, with a youth program in which the girls meet in homes, under the leadership of a counselor. The national organization has "adopted" 2,669 families in Europe, through CARE, and has made hundreds of overseas shipments of clothing. In addition, many infant layettes have been sent to The Holy Father's Storehouse in Rome, where 1,000 requests are supplied daily.

Miss Maher served as regent of Pennsylvania Catholic Daughters of America from 1917 to 1950 and served as vice supreme regent. In tribute to her many years of faithful service to the organization, the state convention meeting in Pittsburgh in May of this year, voted her a trip to Rome.

For GOOD-ness Sake
By Betty Rice

Despite various difficulties as to approved location for the Red Cross blood collection in Youngsville, scores of volunteer workers and blood donors were on hand today to achieve a successful program. From a proposed site at the National Forge clubhouse, the operation was moved to the Methodist church. A blood collection is an intricate affair and without expert supervision would fall by the wayside. It is praiseworthy that the out-of-town collections have thus far run so smoothly. Youngsville citizens with the help of Warren Red Cross officials deserve a hearty vote of thanks from all who will benefit from the Blood program.

The Warren County Red Cross chapter last week fulfilled a request from National headquarters for Christmas packages for our men in uniform on the high seas and abroad. Mrs. T. L. Armstrong, Warren county coordinator for Camp and Hospital services conducted the package program and announces that 50 holiday boxes are winging their way.

A former Warren business man has accepted the chairmanship of the Red Cross Blood program in Indiana, Pa. He is H. Levinson who with his brother Jake headed Betty Lee, the famous name store for smart, young women. He recently married a charming, young lady from New York City and accepted the presidency of a chain of 12 stores with main offices in Indiana. The local chapter wishes him well and will forward vital publicity and ideas pertaining to the blood program.

The more you hear, the more you read, the more you see and the more you think—the more you realize that if everyone would do something just "for good-ness sake," the better would be the world we live in.

Husbands Lose Confidence As Mama's Tastes Rule Family

THE woman was sitting at the glove counter of a department store trying on gloves when her husband came clear across the store to get her okay on a necktie he was buying for himself. "You're sure it's all right?" he asked anxiously.

Like a lot of other husbands that one has evidently been made so aware of his wife's superior taste he has reached the point where he doesn't trust himself to pick out even a necktie without help.

It's amazing, and kind of pitiful, too, the way we women have managed to set ourselves up as the final authority in the family on all matters of taste. Pop looks longingly at a comfortable chair in a department store and we tell him it would look horrible in the living room. He meekly accepts the verdict.

SUIT MUST SUIT MAMA

HE announces that he is going to buy a new suit and Mama either tags along to make sure he gets what she thinks is right or gives him explicit directions about the kind of suit to buy.

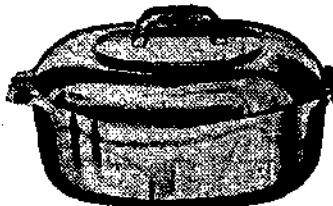

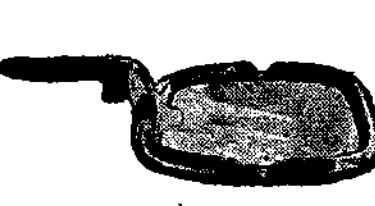

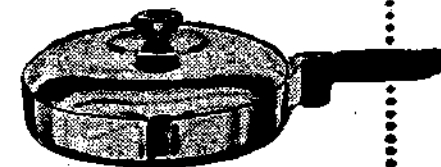

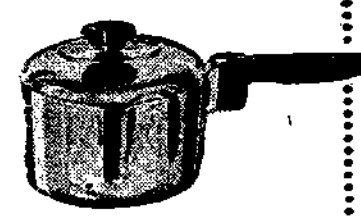

Even when he goes down and selects a gift for Mama to surprise her on her birthday or wedding anniversary, Mama may sneak back to the store and exchange it for something she likes better.

No wonder the poor men don't trust their own ability to pick out anything without first consulting Mama. She is so sure that her taste is better than any man's could possibly be, she has finally succeeded in persuading her husband that she's right.

Clarence L. McKinsey, 727 South Ludlow Street, Dayton, Ohio, who is night supervisor of hospital attendants at the Ohio State Hospital in Dayton, says a man has trouble getting used to working nights and sleeping days. And if a man isn't getting the proper rest it not only makes him groggy on the job, but also makes him feel poorly the rest of the time. This will never happen to him again, says Mr. McKinsey—now that he is taking HADACOL. His system lacked those necessary vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mr. McKinsey's own statement:

"Before I started taking HADACOL I had a great deal of trouble with a nervous stomach. I had an awful hard time sleeping—I would just roll and toss all night. It affected me during my working hours, too—I was restless and nervous all the time. My nerves were so jumpy that the least little thing would put me on edge. I was just beside myself in knowing what to do. Then I heard how other folks that were nervous and rundown were being helped by HADACOL. I decided to try HADACOL. Now, after 10 bottles of HADACOL, I feel fine; in fact, I think so much of HADACOL I would walk 5 miles for a bottle of HADACOL—I'm not exaggerating. Why, the way I sleep and the appetite I have are marvelous. The best thing is that my nerves are calm as they can be. I just can't praise HADACOL enough."

Thousands Have Been Helped by HADACOL whose systems lacked vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomach distress, certain nervous disorders, insomnia due to upset stomach, nagging aches and pains, and a general run-down condition when these troubles are caused by such deficiencies.

Give HADACOL A Chance

...to help you, as it has helped thousands of others if you suffer such deficiencies. Remember, there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL. No risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADACOL, either the trial size, $1.25, or the large family or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL doesn't help you, you get your money back. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

Hal Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE

Chongchon River Front, Korea—(AP)—American officers were in sharp disagreement over what the future holds for United Nations forces in Korea.

It appeared that one man's guess was as good as the next. One general officer said he feared the Chinese Reds were mounting an offensive drive on the former Red capital of Pyongyang which would chop up the U. N. forces and split them down the middle.

Another officer predicted the war would be over by Dec. 1. A third said that if the Reds cannot achieve a decisive diplomatic victory then the Chinese will continue fighting throughout the winter.

The situation was a puzzle throughout the army, with a guessing game going on over the outcome.

Col. Ernest V. Holmes of DeWane, Ohio, said he believed the war would be ended during the first week in December—and he was willing to be quoted.

"I doubt that we ever will go near the Manchurian border," he said. "Some damn fool might cross it and cause trouble."

Then he added: "I will see you in Hawaii on Christmas day."

Lt. Col. Jacob Shacter of Augusta, Ga., said dryly:

"Le me collapse your bridge of optimism."

"There is the possibility the Chinese are shifting to the center of our line for a drive on Pyongyang and a full-scale effort to outflank the western half of our front."

He said the Reds may be holding positions on the Chongchon front merely to give time for an offensive drive. There were signs that the Reds were taking defensive positions by digging new trenches, laying mines and setting up roadblocks.

leve a decisive diplomatic victory then "we will close the war amably."

Shacter said if the U. N. forces continued the drive north they would fight their way out of the narrow neck of the Korean peninsula.

"Then we would have a front that is 570 miles long. The present front is about 110 miles long."

NO STEERING WHEEL

"How much would you pay for a car with a shining body, a radio, and a powerful engine, if you learned that a steering wheel could never be connected with the wheels?"

How much will your children be worth if they have costly clothes, a good education, a large bank account, and personality plus, if they have no ideals to guide them? Ideals are the spiritual steering wheel, without which they will rush to ruin.

Bring the children to the Church, the fosterer of ideals, and give it your own presence and support."

Six Dead In Crash Of a Navy Plane

Face, Okla., Nov. 15—(AP)—Six men died in the crash of a navy plane on Rich mountain near this little eastern Oklahoma town last night.

The bodies—burned as was the plane—were found early today by a crew of forest rangers.

Five lay in the wreckage of the plane—which bore U. S. Navy markings—and one lay nearby.

The plane crashed in an area where many previous crashes have occurred—about 2,300 feet above sea level.

The plane was enroute from Lincoln, Nebr., to New Orleans and was reported overdue by Navy officials.

A crew of volunteers left this morning for the slow climb up the heavily wooded mountain to bring down the bodies. It may take all day.

of America (CWA) now accuses the company of a lockout and unfair labor practices. It also is contesting picketing injunctions in at least 10 states.

The company strongly denied the lockout charge.

The firm said last night that telephone service is generally normal on a national basis, although slow in 40 to 45 communities.

The walkout began last Thursday morning, and flared into its first real violence yesterday at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Nov. 15—(AP)—Police struggled with telephone strike pickets at the doors of Bell Telephone Company exchange again today as the strikers sought to prevent other workers from reaching their jobs.

After five minutes of pushing and shoving a police squad punched a hole in the circling line of pickets and about 15 workers slipped into the building.

Puzzled Pigeons

To the Editor:

I saw this Associated Press story from Chicago in the Los Angeles Times the other day:

"Mrs. Ona Duvign has two pecked pigeons and they have a foster chick. Because Mrs. Duvign's pet pigeons were unsuccessful in hatching their own eggs, she placed a chicken egg in the nest. The pigeons, after some hesitancy, began the job of hatching. After 19 days, the egg hatched. Now, with a downy chick in their nest, the pigeons, Mrs. Duvign said, appear more puzzled than ever."

Which, it seems to me, is very much like you humans who want Prohibition. When your own eggs were slow to hatch, somebody slipped a different kind of egg into your nest. It hatched, all right, and at first you thought you had Prohibition, sure enough. But it soon got to be a strange looking bird and then, not being able to fly, fell out of the nest and killed itself—leaving you more puzzled than ever. Next time, if I were you, I would stick to my own eggs—even if they did seem a little slow in hatching. I don't think pigeons come out of any kind of eggs but pigeon eggs. Am I right?

Military and political leaders were wrong in their cooperation with the beer industry in the recent war and if they should not be wrong again.

The Government is wrong in any policy which makes people and important groups of citizens troubled in mind, dejected with a profound feeling of unease, even sometimes wondering whether or not there is still good will among the men who wield authority toward them and their kind of people.

This is not a question which any group should be compelled to ask at such a time, but it is being asked, and that in families whose sons have defended America ever since the French and Indian War.

May the God of Mercy and Justice go with our men!

Petition Asks For Flasher Light At Pennsy Crossing

The Public Utility Commission will hold a public hearing in Warren on Thursday, Nov. 30, to hear testimony concerning a taxpayers petition asking that flashing red warning lights be placed on the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing at the end of Crescent Park, near the Seneca Lumber Co. on the South Side.

The petition was filed with the P.U.C. by residents in that area, and Pleasant township school officials, firemen, PTA groups and other interested persons. It asks the Commission to direct the Pennsylvania Railroad to install flashing signal on the crossing similar to the lights now in operation on the railroad's crossing near the entrance to Oakland cemetery.

It was pointed out that several school buses use the crossing daily, and that lights for the one crossing and no lights for the other confuse motorists.

A local resident recently had a close call on the crossing near the Seneca Lumber Co. when his car was struck by a train and carried to the very edge of the river bank.

The public hearing will be held in the county courthouse, starting at 10 a. m. abandoned so hurriedly that ammunition, supplies and individual packs were left behind.

An intelligence spokesman at General MacArthur's headquarters said he had no idea why the Chinese were abandoning their positions.

Park-clad U. S. Marines, winding through gorges so narrow that their artillery could not follow, took Hagru at the southern tip of Changjin reservoir without opposition.

To the northeast the U. S. Seventh Division's 31st Regiment hauled its guns and supplies on sleds to the northeastern shores of Fajon reservoir.

The Seventh Division's 17th regiment ran into some artillery, mortar and rifle fire in a two-mile advance that carried it within 28 air miles of the Manchurian border on the road to Kapsan. One U. S. tank was knocked out.

But Maj. Gen. David Barr, divisional commander, said:

"The biggest enemy is this cold, miserable sub-zero weather."

Temperatures as low as six degrees above zero have frozen much of the battlefield. The forecast was warmer Friday with perhaps the first general snowfall of the season this weekend.

THE MARKETS

New York, Nov. 15—(AP)—Stock traders operated cautiously today while they studied the latest administration tax proposals. Price changes were limited to 25 cents a share or less for the most part, with gains and losses evenly distributed. The ticker tape took long and frequent rests after the usual overnight orders were taken care of. Late yesterday President Truman called for prompt congressional approval of a $4,000,000,000 excess profits tax on corporations. This morning, just as the market opened, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder proposed a 75 per cent excess profits tax to raise the money asked by the president.

County Dental Society Receives Two-Hour Telephone Program From Chicago

The Warren County Dental Society held its November meeting at the Hotel Carver with fifteen dentists present. The program consisted of dinner at 6:30, followed by a business meeting and at 8:30 received the two hour telephone extension program which originated from Chicago.

Dr. V. H. McAlpin, president, presided at the business meeting. The society approved a measure recommending fluoridation treatment of the community drinking water to reduce dental decay as advocated this month in Atlantic City by the American Dental Association at their annual meeting. A committee to study the promotion of this fluoridation program was appointed consisting of Drs. J. E. Richards, chairman, J. R. Elliott and R. S. Gibb.

Dr. Wilbert D. Imbrie, district dental officer, Pennsylvania Department of Health, outlined advantages of the fluoridation of community water and urged the local society to promote its acceptance. He stated that it would prevent up to 40% of dental cavities in children.

The Telephone Extension Program originating from Chicago and sponsored by fourteen universities was heard by dentists in 255 cities in 46 states and six Canadian provinces. The subject for this program was "Modern Concepts of Drug Therapy in Dental Practice" with Dr. J. Roy Blayney, professor of dental surgery, University of Chicago, acting as moderator.

Dr. Blayney first discussed "Changing Concepts of Drug Therapy." Dr. Thomas J. Hill, professor of Oral Pathology and Therapeutics, School of Dentistry, and Associate Professor of Pathology, School of Medicine, Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, lectured on "Rational Use of Drug Therapy."

Dr. Floyd D. Ostrander, associate professor of dentistry, University of Michigan, spoke concerning "Control of Pain: Analgesics, Sedatives and Narcotics."

Dr. C. Phillip Miller, professor of medicine, University of Chicago, explained "The Use of Antibiotics and Sulfonamides in the Control of Infection."

Dr. J. Garret Allen, associate professor of surgery, University of Chicago, discussed "Control of Bleeding: Use of Hemostatics."

Dr. Kurt H. Thoma, professor of oral surgery and oral pathology, Harvard University, was the sixth member of the panel. His topic was "Hazards of Irradiation: Therapy on Oral Tissues."

A forum discussion by the panel members concluded their two hour program.

The telephone company and Archie Hunter supervised the local reception of the program from Chicago which was a clear, unbroken transmission with excellent modulation.

The following dentists attended this meeting: Doctors W. D. Imbrie, of Coudersport; F. J. White, of Clarion; J. A. Allen, of Sheffield; A. N. Stillings, of Youngsville; R. C. Maneval, of Warren State Hospital staff, and from Warren were Doctors V. H. McAlpin, E. W. Myers, W. G. DeForest, J. R. Elliott, R. S. Gibb, E. N. Jacobson, L. W. Krespan, A. J. Picard, J. E. Richards and W. J. Sedwick.

SCHOOLHOUSE GUTTED—Believed to have started when a gas heater exploded, a raging fire swept through the Houston Gardens elementary school in Houston, Tex., razing the building. No one was hurt when the frame structure, with a normal enrollment of 550 students, burned to the ground.

THE RAILROAD MURDER CASE

By R. M. Laurenson

Chapter 19

MARC covered the width of the veranda in long strides, with Nora's heels tapping along behind him.

Their feet crunched in the white gravel of a driveway that led to a two-car garage attached to the house. The garage doors stood open, disclosing one empty space, and the other filled by a long, sleek, black sedan. Marc paused as they walked toward the front steps, pulled out his notebook, and jotted down the license number.

The door was opened by a trim little maid with vacant blue eyes. "Is Mrs. Johnson in?" asked Marc politely.

"Yes sir," replied the maid, the blue eyes surveying him with approval. "She's here, but she's resting. I can't disturb her."

"I see," he said. "Are you Agnes?"

"Yes sir," was the smiling reply. "We're anxious to see Mrs. Johnson. I'm surprised she's sleeping at this time of day."

"Well sir, she was at a party almost all night."

"When did she leave?"

"About eight-thirty. She drove."

"I don't know exactly. It was getting light when I heard her. When I took up her breakfast, she said not to bother her again."

"Who is it, Agnes? Who are you talking to?" a rich, throaty voice asked petulantly.

Agnes turned from the door and both Marc and Nora watched with keen interest the figure descending the stairs. She was beautiful, with a full red mouth and straight black eyebrows. Her lustrous black hair was combed back to a shoulder length bob with professional skill.

"A gentleman to see you, ma'am, stammered the flustered Agnes."

"Well, you've no business standing here talking to strangers," snapped Mrs. Johnson. "Who are you?" she demanded, turning to the couple in the door.

"Marc Jordan, Mrs. Johnson, and this is Miss O'Connor. I've some matters to discuss with you, if you please."

"However, I do have business with you, of an important and confidential nature." He glanced meaningfully at the maid.

"Oh, all right, Agnes, scram! Come in."

"What's this confidential business?" she demanded.

Marc's half closed eyes never left Mrs. Johnson as he settled into a chair opposite her.

"Agnes tells me you've been resting all day. I presume, then, that you've not been listening to your radio?"

"How can that interest you?" "Obviously, it can't," replied Marc. "Just insatiable curiosity."

"It'll come as a surprise and a shock, then, to learn that your friend and neighbor, Mr. Richards, was murdered last night."

MARC watched her. The green eyes narrowed to thin slits, and the expertly applied rouge stood out on her pale cheeks. There was no other sign of emotion.

"Murdered!" she exclaimed. "You don't say! Well, I'm not surprised."

"It's my understanding that Mr. Richards left here last night in company with his family—and your husband. Natural curiosity leads me to hope there're things to learn here."

"Why come to me?" "You're neighbors. People often know unexpected and interesting things about their neighbors."

"I can't tell you a thing. We were only casual acquaintances."

"Please, let me judge that."

"I hear you like to fish, Mrs. Johnson."

"Fish? And if I do, is there anything wrong in that?" "Not at all. Only I'm somewhat surprised. You don't seem the type."

"It's no problem to determine your type, Mr. Jordan," said Marc hurriedly. "I wonder if you could help me identify this person."

He pulled an envelope from an inner pocket. Carefully extracting a snapshot, he handed it to Mrs. Johnson. She examined the picture coldly and handed it back.

"Never saw him before in my life. Who is it?"

"That's what we're trying to find out," replied Marc, returning the picture to the envelope, and the envelope to his pocket.

"I was hoping that you'd be able to help. After the rest of last night, you were out."

"And if I was, what of it? Any concern of yours?" "Not at all. There's my curiosity again. But late. And you drove—would you mind telling me where?"

"I certainly would mind! None of your business!" "I see," said Marc dryly. "I was sure you'd feel that way. Just one more question, Mrs. Johnson. Were you planning to return to Calumet soon?"

"That's none of your business either," she snapped. "But I was. I'm driving back tomorrow."

"That's fine," said Marc, rising slowly and settling his coat about his shoulders. "That'll be more convenient! May I suggest that you allow nothing to interfere with those plans? I'm looking forward to a resumption of our conversation."

Mrs. Johnson rose slowly, her half closed eyes watchfully on Marc. "I haven't the slightest idea what you're talking about."

"I'm sure you haven't," Marc helped Nora to her feet, and turned to the door. "Good day, Mrs. Johnson. You've been very kind!"

Unlicensed Bicycles Are Confiscated

About 25 bicycle owners were unpleasantly surprised yesterday when city police, in connection with the investigation of several reported stolen bicycles, confiscated the wheels and took them to police headquarters because their owners had no license on them.

About half of the bikes have been redeemed by the owners through the purchase of a license for 25 cents. The license is good for two years.

Moose Sponsoring Revue for Soldiers

The Loyal Order of the Moose, which recently footed the bill to send a mammoth variety show to entertain the armed forces at all Alaskan bases, is going to pick up the tab to provide even a bigger revue for the GIs in Newfoundland and Greenland.

Moose officials, in conjunction with Joe Hillier, Pittsburgh booking agent, and his associate, Anton Scibilia, who arranged for and staged the Alaskan show, have put together another high grade attraction, which will be seen in the Greenland and Newfoundland military bases from Nov. 12 to Nov. 25, inclusive.

The revue, to be called "A Night With the Moose," will have tunes up performances in Unontown and Meadville before being staged on Armistice night in the Mosque Theater, Newark, N. J. Immediately following the Newark staging, the big troupe will take off in an air force plane for Newfoundland.

HIRE THE HANDICAPPED

Police said that sufficient notice was given to all bicycle owners in July when licenses were sold at the station, and that any others found without plates will also be taken in.

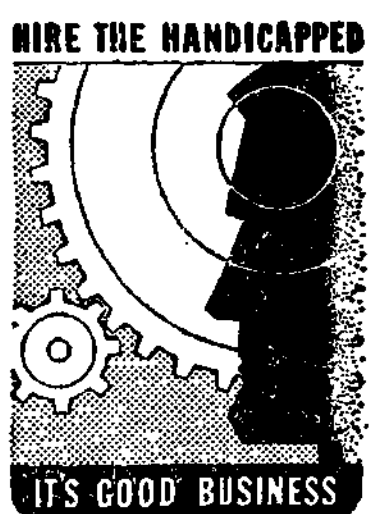

The bikes were picked up at various schools about town, with the majority of them coming from Beatty Junior hi.

WHEN IN DOUBT USE SUIT CONTRACT

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

A doubtful no-trump contract is likely to be more dangerous than a doubtful suit contract. The value of the trump suit is that it will usually stop the enemy's long suits. This may be seen in a hand taken from a recent tournament. It was all right for South to pass the double of on a no-trump. For one thing, he had no suit of his own to bid and could not be sure that North had a five-card heart suit. Moreover, he was right in following the old motto: 'Don't scream until you're hurt.' For all he could tell, West might bid, and then North-South would be out of trouble. North had no such reason to pass. He knew that he had a fine five-card heart suit. He also knew that he was in trouble if he passed the auction would be over. There was no hope that an opponent would bid and thus take him out of his misery.

At no-trump, South did not fare well. West opened the six of spades. Dummy put up the queen, and East won with the ace. East returned the eight of clubs, and West won with the nine. After some thought, he cashed the ace of clubs to unblock his partner's suit. He then laid down the king of spades, and East carefully dropped the eight.

West next looked around for an entry to his partner's hand. He tried a low diamond, fearing that his partner might have the ace of diamonds and only the queen of hearts. Dummy played low, East put up the ten, and South won with the ace. Declarer now had to take the heart finesse to have any play at all for his contract.

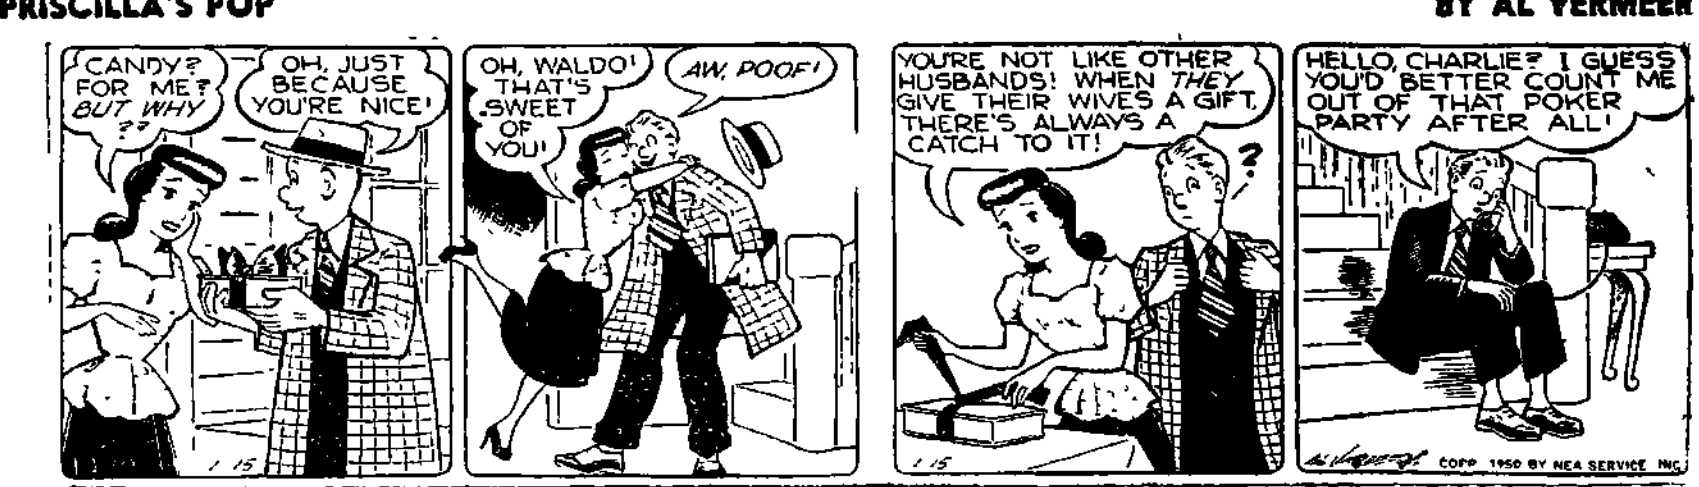

This lost to East's king. East thereupon cashed the rest of his clubs and returned the four of spades. West was able to win with the seven of spades and cash his jack for the tenth defensive trick. Declarer was down 1100 at a contract of one no-trump.

If North had bid two hearts instead of passing, there would have been a different story to tell. At the worst, he would have played the hand at two hearts doubled.

He would make four hearts and three diamonds, thus losing only 200 points instead of 1100.

As a matter of fact, North might not have lost any points at all. The opponents might have played the hand at three clubs instead of doubling two hearts. East might very easily lose two hearts, two diamonds, and a spade, for a one-trick set.

In short, North showed more courage than brains when he passed the double of one no-trump.

DUGOUT DEJECTION—Lou Boudreau, above, shown in one of his unhappier moments while watching a shellacking of the Tribe from the shelter of a dugout, has been ousted as manager of the Cleveland Indians. He was replaced by Al Lopez, former major league catcher and manager of the Indianapolis Indians. Ellis Ryan, president of the Cleveland club, said that "Boudreau's disassociation with the Indians has no bearing on our admiration for him as a gentleman and a player. We have been endeavoring to arrange a managerial job for him with another major league club but nothing is definite in this regard." Sources close to Branch Rickey, recently appointed general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, indicated Boudreau might become the Bucs' new manager.

Wyoming Star Back Talboom Began Career at ND in 1941

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—Add Wyoming to the teams bringing back the single wing like an election repeater.

They're paced by a phenomenal tailback with numerous nicknames, Tailwind and Boom Boom, among them. His square moniker is Eddie Talboom, and his is an extraordinary story.

Talboom certainly knows how to pick his spot, so well that he really ought to be a handicapper of horses. Wyoming's Wonder Boy surely knew when not to go to Notre Dame, as any old Irisher will tell you.

This no doubt will be news to the younger fry in South Bend, but Talboom is not only a native of that bustling manufacturing city and seat of learning, but he also played freshman ball with Notre Dame in 1941, or nine years ago. He's having quite a college career.

It could be that the then young Talboom didn't like the way Frank Leahy threw those S3 words around, the way he parted his hair, or something, for that was The Master's first year at Notre Dame.

Anyway, Coach Leahy and the Irish saw no more of Tailwind Talboom following spring practice of 1942, after which he went into the Army.

WHEN Boom Boom Talboom was discharged from the armed forces, and got around to playing college ball again, he headed west with Boden Wyatt and his hand-picked staff. Coach Wyatt had assisted Brig.-Gen. Bob Neyland at Tennessee since being an All-America end there in 1938. Obviously, he also knows not only how to pick 'em, but find 'em, and the way to deliver 'em as well.

Talboom, the handsome father of three boys, weighs no more than 167 pounds, so takes a little a long way.

He is practically a one-man two-plateau system. He calls Wyoming's plays, runs, passes, punts and converts.

Sophomore Talboom led the Skyline Six in total offense and scoring in 1948. Wyoming lost only to burly Baylor leading the nation in scoring last term, and it was Junior Talboom who set the tempo.

This trip the all-conquering Cowboys avenged their only reverse of last fall edging the beating Baylor Bears, and Senior Talboom has a healthy lead over the country's individual scorers. This despite the fact that, due to a slight injury, he played less than a half in the 44-0 rout of New Mexico.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Asked where he was going to get horses when he opened fabulous Santa Anita 16 years ago, Dr. Charles Henry Strub replied:

"I'll give the owners so much money they'll have to come and get it."

He has.

They came, this fall and winter, to a greater extent than ever. Horsemen used to unwind and turn out stock during the blustery months, but no longer.

They can't afford to.

Racing definitely is now a year-around business or sport, depending on how you take it, or leave it alone.

Fantastic purses—$1,475,000 in stakes alone—precipitated another California gold rush—in racing.

Unlike Florida, where turfmen race for comparative peanuts at Tropical and Gulfstream Parks before and after Hialeah, Hollywood Park made some attempt to match Santa Anita.

Bill Kyne owns the line at Bay Meadows, to the north.

This brought nearly all the name stables to southern California—Calumet, King Ranch and the strings of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt and C. T. Chenery, and that of Isadore Bieber and Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs, among them.

HOLLYWOOD PARK now has the top 10 money-winning horses of all time which are now in training—Assault, On Trust, Ponder, Coaltown, Bewitch, Solidarity, Vulcan's Forge, Hill Prince, Your Host and Autocrat.

This is believed to be the first time in a decade that any track could present every horse of the foremost 10 at one meeting.

Hollywood Park runs through Dec. 16.

Its Gold Cup, for three-year-olds and up at 10 furlongs, with $100,000 net to the winner, Dec. 9, will be the richest stakes of the year.

Santa Anita operates from Dec. 30 through March 10. The Los Angeles Turf Club offers no fewer than nine $50,000 races, two at $100,000 and the Maturity, for four-year-olds at 10 furlongs. Feb. 3, could gross $224,300, is certain to be the richest race ever run.

Bay Meadows opens Mar. 10, continues through April 28.

Hollywood Park and Santa Anita offer overnight features up to $10,000. Bay Meadows announces 10 overnight purses of $5000. The minimum purse at Hollywood is $2500, at Santa Anita $3500, at Bay Meadows $2000.

There's still gold in them thar' hills, podner.

Baseball Meeting Slated at Cinncy

Cincinnati, Nov. 15—(AP)—They'll be shoveling on the coal in baseball's "hot stove league" here for the next two days.

Club owners, farm system heads, scouts, managers and a scattering of players began rolling in today for a series of meetings that will cover both major leagues and the American Association.

The top affairs will be held tomorrow.

First will be the annual draft by the major leaguers of players from the minor loops. Then will come separate meetings for directors of the American and National leagues and a joint session of both organizations to decide what to do with $975,000 derived this year from the sale of world series radio and television rights.

The draft and the joint meetings will be held with baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler and secretary of baseball Walter Multry.

Even before that, however, the American Association directors will be in a huddle.

President Bruce Dudley called a meeting of the mid-western class AAA minor loop for today. He said it was for the purpose of figuring out the 1951 schedule.

There was immediate speculation, however, as to whether the association might do some official talking about the Pacific Coast League's request to be exempt from the major league draft. One proposal has been made to put the Coast League in a new Class AAA.

It isn't expected to find much favor, however, with either the Association or the International League. The Pacific Coast, the AA-association and the International now are in Class AAAA.

The majors' draft meeting will be held tomorrow morning. Scouts and farm officials have had an opportunity to scan the list of hundreds of minor leaguers who are eligible to be drafted.

The disposal of the radio-TV world series money is the knotty problem to come before the joint league gathering.

HOW NOT TO HUNT—This artist's sketch, released by the Pennsylvania Game Commission, graphically portrays what might happen through carelessness in handling guns. The Game Officials ask every hunter to treat every weapon with respect due a loaded gun, and to never point a gun at anything you are not going to shoot. Such accidents as these are never excusable.

GARLAND

The monthly business meeting for Garland's community center was held Monday evening, preceded by a tureen dinner. Norman Taylor gave his report for October and Mildred Troop and Mrs. Merle Sandrock have charge of activities for November. Mr. Taylor closed his session as host Thursday, with a large attendance. Mr. and Mrs. William Gray, Pittsfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carlson and daughter, Youngsville, former Garland residents, were among those present. Mr. Taylor thanks all for their help in serving and their cooperation in attending.

The month of October handed down the finest autumn weather ever experienced by the oldest inhabitants in the Brokenstraw valley. The thermometer went to 80° and above.

Edward Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palmer, is home on a furlough from the army.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Carlson, of Indiana, are visiting the former's father, Peter Carlson. The Carlsons have been on an eastern motor trip.

Paul Brown is back in Garland and has secured employment at the I. M. Manufacturing Company.

Members of the Moore family have returned from West Virginia, where they were called by the tragic death of Mrs. Joe Moore's granddaughter.

Bud Crapser, Coity, was in town over the weekend, occupying his hunting lodge.

Art Kane has had a substitute in the N.Y.C. station while he was doing a little hunting.

Sixty Republicans and 60 Democrats voted on Election Day in Garland. The following ladies served on the board: Ethel Morris, Mrs. Nobles, Mrs. Arthur Kane, Mrs. Colbert and Mrs. Peter Carlson.

Garland residents regret to learn of the serious illness of Mr. Eighmey at his home in Pittsfield. Several young people from this vicinity were in his classes during his many years of teaching in the Youngsville High School.

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Cold figures give the tip on what the President and Congress will have to do about changing the draft to get the armed services up to 3,000,000 men and keeping that figure. Past experience has been that half of this force will be regulars and volunteers. That means the draft will have to supply 1,500,000.

The trouble is, only 750,000 men who are physically fit for service reach the age of 18 each year. Under the present law, they are called for only 21 months' service. Only possible ways to make up the deficiency are to keep men longer, lower the standards, take married men, or dip into the 18-year class.

Details of program to encourage reinvestment of matured U. S. savings bond funds will soon be announced by Treasury. One and a half billion dollars worth of "E" bonds come due in 1951, three billion in 1952.

Big argument will come in trying to convince the bond holder that the $25 principal and interest he gets from purchase of a bond for $18.75 10 years ago is worth more than, say 60 per cent of $15 purchasing power it represents, in terms of 1941 dollar value. That's what inflation has done.

Best answer that can be given now is, "What would your money be worth if you had invested it in stocks, corporation bonds, life insurance, real estate or any other kind of property? And where could you have bought greater security for repayment in full?"

Savings bond sales officials are encouraged by recent pickups in payroll deduction plans, in spite of heavy cushioning in bonds. National Tube Co. of Gary, Lorain, McKeesport and Pittsburgh, now has U. S. record with over 80 per cent of its 25,000 employees participating. Carnegie-Illinois Steel in past month has jumped participation from 16,000 to 72,000 of its 100,000 employees.

REAPPORTIONMENT of congressional seats for the 1952 elections, based on the 1950 census figure of 150,000,000 population, involves some tricky arithmetic. Since the law now fixes the size of the House of Representatives at 435 members, it means each congressman should represent approximately 344,000 people. Trouble is, when you divide the population of each state by 344,000 it seldom if ever comes out even. There's always a fraction left over. Main purpose of the reapportionment is to work out a minimum injustice to every state for its fraction.

American Academy of Science reported on this injustice to the Speaker of the House back in 1929. From that report, the present system was worked out. The law says first that each state shall have at least one representative. That accounts for the first 48 of the 435, and leaves 387 to be divided on the second round.

On this first round, Delaware, Nevada and Wyoming drop out because they have less than 334,000 population. Vermont also drops out because it doesn't have enough population for two seats. With these four states out, the 387 seats are divided among 44 states.

The states are now lined up according to calculated priority. New York having the largest population, it gets the 49th seat. California gets 50, Pennsylvania 51 and Illinois 52. New York now still has a greater priority than any other state, so it gets the 53rd seat for its third congressman. Ohio gets 54, Texas 55, Michigan 56. California gets the 57th seat for its third congressman. Pennsylvania gets the 58th for its third and New York gets the 59th for its fourth. And so on. But on every round, some states drop out. Seven states gain this year, and nine states lose through population shifts.

Seat 435 this year went to Massachusetts for its 14th congressman. If there had been 436 seats, California would have had it for its 51st. If there had been 437 seats to distribute, Kentucky would have received the last one and would not have lost a seat, dropping from nine to eight. There would have to be 509 seats to distribute to keep every state from losing strength in the 83rd Congress. Arkansas would have received the 509th seat for a seven-man delegation, instead of dropping to six.

Jews To Celebrate Festival of Chanuko December 3 to 11

The festival of Chanuko will be celebrated by people of the Jewish faith, from sun-down Sunday night, December 3, to sun-down December 11.

This festival of Dedication Days is in commemoration of the rededication of the Temple of Jerusalem by the victorious Maccabees in 167 B. C. E. in their struggle against the Syrian-Greek King Antiochus who attempted to suppress the religion of the Jews.

With the help of the Hellenistic party of Jews, who in effect tried to liquidate the faith of Israel by espousing the idolatrous Greek worship, the Syrian monarch hurled one army after another against the little state of Judaea.

Mattathias, of an old priestly family, raised the standard of revolt. With the aid of his five sons, John, Simon, Judas (called Maccabeus) Eleazar and Jonathan he gathered around him "all those zealous for the law." The brothers hurled back the professional soldiers who invaded their little mountain country. The victories that were won allowed them to re-establish the independence of their country, by driving out the apostates and the experienced generals of the King.

The Feast of Lights is in memory of the eight days required for the rededication of the sanctuary which had been desecrated by the heathen worship which Antiochus

The Medical Center Nurses Home, a sixteen-story structure to be built in Oakland, will house 600 student nurses while they study and attend classes at the University of Pittsburgh and the Medical Center. Cost of construction of the building, to be built by Trimble Company, has been set at $3,867,000. Additional expenses will bring the total cost of the building to an estimated $4,175,000.

FIRE AT CONNEAUT

Extensive damage by fire was caused at Conneaut Lake Sunday to what firemen termed a $30,000 home. Sparks from a chimney set the wooden shingle roof afire on the home jointly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard Smith and Mr. and Mrs. William Saulnier. The Smiths lived upstairs. The roof was pretty well gone before the blaze was discovered. The attic was destroyed and much damage was caused by smoke and water, but firemen held the blaze in check. Nearly all the furniture was saved by neighbors and the occupants.
